THE JAIL DELIVERY.

If the Council of State based its refusal of pardon upon the apparently dilatory and reluctant applications of the prisoners discriminated against, it did the men an injustice according to some information the BULLETIN has received. There was an impression in the prisoners' minds that there would be another "cut" made on Thanksgiving Day, but that it would leave the longer term prisoners still behind the bars. Therefore it was hard to convince these latter that there was any use in praying for pardon. Those who were most prompt in asking for release and importunate in their petitions acted, not so much upon any sanguine hopes that there would be a favorable response as upon the principle that, while their friends and the benevolently-disposed public were making such earnest efforts on their behalf, it would look like sullen ingratitude on their part if they failed to make any effort for themselves.

It is learned on good authority that some who opposed the release of any of the prisoners have changed their minds since Thanksgiving Day, and do not see now that either the dignity or the security of the Government is enhanced by further detention of the few remaining political prisoners, when several who were as deeply involved in the conspiracy and the overt acts to accomplish its objects are breathing the air of liberty. They might just as well all be let out, without waiting for Christmas or New Year's. Public opinion, there can be little doubt, is in favor of such an act of magnanimity.

CHINESE AMERICANS.

An important test case was pending in San Francisco at latest advices, which has a vital interest for this country in connection with the question of annexation. Its decision may even have something to do in determining the policy of the United States regarding annexation. The question at issue is whether a Chinese born in the United States is a citizen or not. Hitherto American-born Chinese have been accepted as citizens, and a late San Francisco paper says that "in cities like San Francisco and New York the possible Chinese vote next year is causing politicians to do some thinking." Geo. D. Collins has recently, however, raised the point in the American Law Review that a Chinese born in the United States is not a citizen, contending that his parents could not possibly be naturalized under the statutes and judicial holdings of the United States, and that the mere accident of birth would not entitle him to citizenship. If this position be upheld by the Federal courts it will bar all such Chinese from habeas corpus privileges, take the entire question of their return to the country, when they visit China, out of the courts and leave the matter of their landing wholly with the customs authorities. The test case referred to was instituted in the United States District Court in San Francisco upon the suggestion of the Department of Justice at Washington, and is that of a Chinaman born in the United States who is prosecuting the collector of customs and a steamer captain for their undertaking to deport him.

THE GODFREY CASE.

In refusing to entertain the claim of damages presented by Frank Godfrey for outrage upon his person, the United States Government apparently regards Hawaii in the same light as it does her own State governments, with whose failures, in some cases, to protect citizens from the violence of mob law it never interferes. At the same time, if Godfrey neglected to use any means he might have had in his power to secure the prosecution of his assailants, it is hard to see how he could have any claim for damages against the Hawaiian Government. As to the reason heard about Godfrey's being refused United States protection on the ground that he is a registered Hawaiian voter, if there is truth in this then it is the first case in which a definite decision upon that point has been rendered by the United States Government.

OBSERVATIONS.

Dogs should be vigorously excluded from the precincts of the fishmarket.

In response to inquiries about the mongoose in this country, Mr. Marsden has written the exhaustive account of the little beast which appears in this issue. It makes interesting reading.

"Godfrey claimed that he was a beneficiary of the Government as described in the law of 1890, and consequently his wages could not be garnished." In the foregoing statement the Advertiser turns the fact inside out. The law of 1890 referred to provides for the garnishment of the salaries of Government employees, they having been previously exempt from the garnishment process. The decision mentioned by the Advertiser, which was correctly reported in this paper, was to the effect that Godfrey was not an employee of the Government, in the sense of the law, and therefore that money due to him from the Senate could not be attached by garnishment. Godfrey won the case.

Police Court Items.

Judge Perry disposed of fifteen minor cases this morning. Olohea and Kaopua were arrested this morning for having che fa tickets in possession.

The profanity charge on which "Ben" had to put up $100 bail will be heard on Saturday.

The charge against F. Osmer for assaulting and battering his wife has been dropped by the prosecution.

Three Chinese gamblers were fined $10 each and costs by Judge Perry this morning and two others were discharged.

In the suit of Samusea vs Miner in the District Court the defendant has confessed judgment for $29.29 in favor of plaintiff.

Ah Fook, a Chinese truant, pleaded guilty before Judge Perry this morning, but his sentence was suspended on the promise of good behavior in the future.

Emil Klemme recovered judgment yesterday afternoon in Judge Perry's court against W. E. Smith for $24.25 on an I. O. U.

F. M. Swanzy left on the Iwani this afternoon for Hamakua.

MATTERS IN PROBATE.

Pedro, Keefe, Hayselden and Gleason Estates—Appeal Case.

Cecil Brown has filed his final account as administrator of the estate of Antone Pedro, showing receipts $427.04, expenditures $241.70, balance $185.34. The same gentleman has filed his final account as executor of the will of Thomas Keefe, showing receipts $1290, expenditures $554.80, balance $735.20.

A. G. M. Robertson, attorney for Mrs. Quigley, formerly Mrs. J. G. Hayselden, is notified by W. A. Kinney and Cecil Brown, attorneys for the executors of the estate of J. G. Hayselden, to produce in court a certain letter written to her by J. S. Walker in 1888 regarding interest on advances in his hands belonging to her.

Father Sylvester has filed his fifth yearly account as guardian of Patrick Gleason, showing receipts $1847, payments $825.27, balance $263.20.

"THE FREE AD" AND THE SUPERIORITY OF THE
TRIBUNE WHEELS
OVER THE STEARNS.

In our last advertisement in this column we called attention of the public to the Stearns wheels which are now being sold in this city. We stated without fear of contradiction that they were back numbers, manufactured in 1894 and shipped to the Pacific Coast as up to date wheels when they are not. We reiterate that assertion more forcibly in this ad. It has not been denied and cannot be, and we again caution buyers not to be deceived with antiquated machines which are represented as containing all the latest improvements.

An ad of the Stearns agency in an afternoon paper, praising the Tribune wheel and giving it a good send-off, refers to a letter written by H. F. Terrill, the well-known scorching, concerning the Tribune wheel. In spite of their assertion to the contrary, we deny that the agents of the Stearns wheel have seen or read the private letter of Harry F. Terrill to the Tribune rider here (meaning Tommy King) but as there is nothing secret about it we print the whole of it relating to bicycles below. If the Stearns agents can get any satisfaction out of it they are more than welcome. Mr. Terrill says: "I am riding a Stearn, 16 lbs. Say, Tom, the Tribune wheel has an awful good reputation through the East. I did not think much of it before I came East. It is considered one of the best mechanically constructed wheels in the world."

The balance of the letter refers to private matters but the Stearns agents may peruse the whole of it at any time. The explanation of Terrill's riding a Stearns wheel lies in the fact that he is under contract with the manufacturers to do so, consequently he cannot ride a Tribune although it is evident he would if he had the choice.

In our last advertisement we asked any intending purchaser to take one of the Stearns wheels to any first-class mechanic and have him take it apart and compare it with the corresponding features of the Tribune wheel. We knew that an honest opinion would be that the Tribune is by far the better wheel and hence made the challenge. We renew that challenge and intend to keep it before the public. It has not been accepted and it will not be.

We expect those Tribune Tandems on the Australia and if they arrive they will probably be seen in the New Year's races.

Don't purchase a bicycle of any kind without first examining the Tribune.
